

Welcome to Freehold's Finest...AUTHORS

The first in a series of special community presentations in association with the
Freehold Borough Educational Foundation

Introducing The Power of the Pen, a panel discussion with these notable Freehold residents and authors:

Frank Argote-Freyre, History Professor at Kean University

Fulgencio Batista: From Revolutionary to Strongman

"A superb biography...Balanced, judicious and fluently written, Argote-Freyre... offers an important and long overdue scholarly reassessment of a crucial figure in Cuban history." – Publisher's Weekly

Kevin Coyne, New York Times Columnist

Marching Home: To War and Back with the Men of One American Town

"Coyne's synthetic vision...fuses the postwar lives of six veterans, giving readers a fully detailed small-town mosaic, suffused with the nation's buoyant peacetime hopes--and fractured by its peacetime economic and social tensions." - Booklist

Carlo DeVito, Publishing professional and life-long NY Giants fan
Wellington: The Maras, the Giants, and the City of New York

"Well researched...At its core, the book is a biography of Wellington - and the entire Mara clan - but it also paints a vivid picture of the rise of the NFL. Add in some New York City history and you have a compelling read." –Andy Clayton, NY Daily News

Tuesday, March 13, 2007      7:00 - 9:00 p.m.

The Cornerstone Café

2 East Main St., Freehold, NJ

Join us for a free evening of coffee, tea, dessert, and a lively panel discussion, interactive Q&A, and book signing with the authors. This is also an opportunity to learn more about the Freehold Borough Educational Foundation, a private non-profit organization dedicated to planting seeds of educational excellence through creative and innovative teaching, student development, and enhanced community and school partnerships.